

Added values / social values.

Social-cultural associations have the power to bring people together and create meaningful change.

The Zambian association adds a significant social value to Swiss community through the various activities and initiatives it brings to Zambians living in Swiss to foster a sense of community and belonging.

It helps promoting Zambian culture and heritage through events such as traditional dances, music performances, food festivals, art...

It helps fellow Zambians living in Swiss in difficult situation through charitable fundraising activities. By doing so, it demonstrates the power of community.

It creates a sense of belonging and camaraderie, it also offers opportunities to give back and make a positive impact on society.

By participating in the community, individuals can contribute to a greater social value and foster a more inclusive and supportive community.

Development of new cultural practices that are a fusion of both communities' traditions.

These practices can be a testament to the power of collaboration and cooperation between different communities.

In conclusion, the added social value that comes with the interaction of two different communities can be a source of strength and enrichment for both communities. By embracing and celebrating cultural diversity, we can create a more inclusive and cohesive society.
